

The tragic death of Rose Dannatt

BURNS AND FALLS: CLOTHING ABLAZE.

ADMISSIONS TO HOSPITAL.

Two cases of burning as the result of clothing catching fire were admitted to the Nottingham General Hospital yesterday afternoon.

The first was Rose Danivett, 18, of 27, The Bungalows, Bilsthorpe, whose clothing caught fire as she was sitting in a chair near the fire at her home. The flames were extinguished by other members of the household, and she was taken to hospital, where she was detained.

The clothing of Annie McEvoy, 24, of 83, Bridge-street, Long Eaton, became ignited when she was lifting a kettle off the fire at her home yesterday afternoon. She also received severe burns.

The Nottingham Evening Post dated Tuesday 14th April 1936

DRESS CATCHES ALIGHT.

Bilsthorpe Girl Dies from Her Injuries.

Miss Rose Dennett (18), of 27, The Bungalows, Bilsthorpe, died in the Nottingham General Hospital yesterday following burns which she received on Sunday when her dress caught alight as she was sitting near a fire at home.

The Nottingham Journal dated Tuesday 14th April

CLOTHES BURNT OFF.

Domestic Servant's Fate on Visit to Bilsthorpe.

A domestic servant's terrible death from shock caused by burns through her pinafore catching fire, was related at an inquest at Nottingham General Hospital yesterday, on Rose Dennett (18), a parlourmaid, of 2 Heath-road, Temple Normanton, near Chesterfield.

It was stated that the girl was staying at 27, The Bungalows, Bilsthorpe, when the fatality occurred, on Sunday last.

Frank Monington, who resided next door and was in No. 27 at the time, said he saw the girl reach up to the mantelshelf in front of an open grate. The door was open and the wind blew her pinafore on to the fire.

Sarah Ann Goodwin, the occupant of No. 27, said she found the girl sitting in a chair in the kitchen with her clothing burnt off her. She sent for a doctor and the girl was taken to hospital. She died on Monday.

The City Coroner (Mr. W. S. Rothers) recorded a verdict of "Death from shock following burns through deceased's clothing accidentally catching fire."

The Nottingham Journal dated Saturday,
18th April 1936